

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended
Hahn's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.
The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.
Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than commons of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.
It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.
The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.
They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.
Hamilton's Elixir,
A sovereign remedy for colds, obsteinate coughs, asthma, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.— To persons who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.
Hamilton's Grand Restorative, Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Disorders Violent cramps in Consumptions the stomach and Lowness of spirits back Loss of appetite Indigestion Impurity of blood Melancholy Hysterical affection Gout in the stomach Inward weaknesses Pains in the limbs and debility Relaxations, etc.

Mustard.

and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, rashes, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc.
Lee's Ointment for the Itch.
Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.
Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaster.
An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Committed
TO my custody some time past as run-aways, a Negro woman and two children. The Negro woman calls herself Ann Butler, and says she is free, and came from Nottingham in Prince George county upwards of seven years ago to this county, where she has lived as a free person ever since.—She is 5 feet 2 inches high, of a very dark complexion, and appears to be about 28 years of age—had on when committed an oxburgh shift, an old white cotton petticoat, and a red calico frock.— Her oldest child is a boy, who is called Thomas—of a dark complexion, and appears to be about 5 years old.—The other is a girl, who is called Ann, also of a dark complexion, and appears to be about 3 years old. The owner is desired to come and take them away, otherwise they will be sold as the law directs, for their prison fees, &c.

tail, rubbed on the left side by the harness 30 years of age, 5 feet 6 or 7 inches high, stout made, very black complexion, large of obtaining himself as a free man, and will no doubt attempt to pass as such, and probably get work—has a down look when spoken to.—His clothes not recollected, having various suits.

French Creek Boarding School.
The following is published for the information of Parents:
HAVING long believed that a School on a plan different from most others in many respects, would be beneficial to society, and apprehending that with all its cares, and the responsibility inseparable from such a concern, I could more cheerfully devote my time to the education of children than to any other business, I have concluded to establish a BOARDING SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.
With this view I have purchased the FRENCH CREEK FARM, four miles east of the yellow springs, on the Narristown and Philadelphia road, situated in Pike-land and Vincent townships, Chester county, twenty-seven miles from Philadelphia, combining many conveniences for the support of such an institution; and having let the farm, etc. in a way calculated to supply the family with provisions, I propose to devote my attention, with the aid of suitable assistants, to the education of the children who may be placed under my care.
In selecting the pupils, it is not proposed to be governed entirely by their age, nor to require that they shall all be members of the religious society of Friends; but as the school rules will be very few, in number and very simple, it is my wish that none may be sent contrary to their own inclination, nor any one who would not be likely to be good examples to the other scholars, and treat them with kindness and affection.
The price for board and tuition will be two hundred Dollars per annum, one quarter always to be paid in advance—no restrictions respecting the kind of clothing are intended, nor respecting the frequency of the changes that parents may require; the washing will be charged at the ordinary price per dozen—children may be admitted for one quarter only, and such as are entered for a longer period, may nevertheless be removed at the expiration of any quarter.
The communication with Philadelphia will be frequent and easy by stage, and a house of entertainment kept by the farmer for the accommodation of persons having business at the school.
Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, English Grammar, Geography and the use of Maps and globes, will be taught, together with such other branches as the progress of the children and experience may render expedient. The school to open the first of the 5th month next. For further information apply to Edward Stabler, Alexandria, or to

THE TREASURE OF HEALTH.
A complete collection of the most valuable secrets in medicine, for the cure of all diseases, wounds and other accidents to which the human body is subject; with the method of preparing, and instructions for using, the necessary remedies.
Also, the best preservatives against the plague, small pox, and all other kinds of contagious diseases.—Discovered after much research and experience by the most skillful physicians in Europe, and employed with the greatest success; and unknown till the present time in the United States.
Carefully collected, by a Benevolent Society, and faithfully translated from the French, and other foreign languages.
And published for the benefit of humanity,
BY LEWIS MERLIN.

TO THE PUBLIC.
The work which is this day offered, for public usefulness, ought not to be looked upon as those which a desire of gain bring forth every day among us. This is a rare and precious collection of the most valuable secrets in medicine, which the most skillful physicians have discovered after long researches, labor and experience. It is, without contradiction, the first of the kind that has ever appeared within the United States of America, and a treasure which every head of a family could not too much appreciate, as it points out the symptoms of several diseases, of which many persons are only acquainted with their names; ad, the receipt of the quantity and quality of the drugs that are made use of; 3d, their preparations so carefully described and detailed that the least intelligent person cannot be mistaken; and finally the necessary doses and the manner of administering them. One may rest assured that all in this collection is easy to put into practice, the expense is trifling because all the simples and plants which compose the greatest part of the recipes it contains, may be found in the fields and in the gardens; in a word, that it affords the means of car-ring, in a short time, all the diseases and evils with which one may be afflicted, and at a low expense.
It is to a benevolent society we are indebted for such a precious treasure.
Their whole good wish towards suffering humanity, induced that society to spare neither pains, care nor expense in obtaining from all parts of the globe, and to give in one and only collection, a valuable and complete selection of receipts for the cure of all diseases with which the human body is every day afflicted, which their renowned virtues, the repeated experience that has been made of them, even on patients who had been given up by their physicians, and the cures resulting from them, have caused them to be adopted as sovereign and infallible remedies.

Amongst the great number of diseases that have been cured by these inestimable secrets, we shall only name some of them, of which the foreign journals and American newspapers have borne the most authenticated testimony, such as apoplexy, asthma, bilious, windy and nephretic colic, consumption of lungs, debility, dysentery, diarrhoea, dropsy in the breast, in the brain, compound dropsy, anar-sarge of senses, epilepsy, diseases of the eyes, intermittent, tertian, quar-tan, continual and inflammatory fevers, malignant, spotted and scarlet fevers, hives (so fatal to children), inflammation of the bowels, of the liver and lungs, gangrene, itch, jaundice, fits, hooping-cough, lethargy, leprosy, rheumatism, pulmonary, scurvy, swellings, sore throat, worms, tape-worm, complaints of the bowels, looseness or bloody flux, folly or madness originated after a sequel of disease, or through an immoderate use of spirituous liquors; cold and sciatic gouts, gravel, gonorrhoea, hydrophobia, bite of venomous animals, hemorrhage, palpitation of the heart, stone, &c. &c.
This precious collection contains likewise a great number of receipts for preparing several kinds of balsams, ointment or salves, with the manner of using them, and the effects of which are so surprising that they cure in a very short time, the cancers, without the assistance of any operation; the king's evil, tetter or ring's worm, wens; all sorts of cuts, wounds, however large and deep they may be, both inward and outward hemorroids, all pains and swellings arising from rheumatism, all kinds of burns, all catarrhs of the eyes, even those that deprive of the sight; all sores that come on women's breasts; all kinds of sore legs and ulcers, however old they may be; chancres, bub-oes, and other venereal disorders; they join the nerves again, when they have been cut or broken in any manner whatever; they strengthen weak nerves and prevent the palsy whenever one is threatened with it; they draw out broken bones and all other foreign bodies that may be in sores or wounds; in short, these ointments or salves do possess such a virtue against the gangrene, that many persons being at the point of having their legs, hands or fingers cut off, have been entirely cured by the application of these ointments alone.

In this interesting work will be also found the inestimable receipt of the grand preventives against the plague, pestilential, spotted and other fevers, small pox, and all kinds of contagious diseases; their preparations with the manner of making use of them both inwardly and outwardly, as well to preserve ourselves against the contagion as to be cured whenever one is afflicted with them; and wonderful and most valuable secrets in medicine —always employed with success, and never failed to cure in epidemic and contagious diseases, and unknown to the present time in the United States of America.
In short, the famous and renowned syrup of long life, or the great preservator of health, whose so extraordinary virtues have drawn the attention of a great number of physicians, although the desire of gain has endeavored to counterfeit or imitate it, but always without success. That receipt so very simple, so very easy to prepare, and of a good taste, was given by an old gentleman of one hundred and thirty-two years of age, who began to make use of it at the age of 60 without his having ever experienced the least inconvenience. The good effects which this simple receipt has always produced on the persons who have made use of it are so well known that no more need to be said on that subject; and although this work contains a great number more of other receipts and other matters not less interesting for the human body, we shall not dwell any longer on the benefits arising to the public out of this precious collection; because it is only by putting what is taught in it into practice, that the public will be convinced of the truth that there is no quackery nor deception in all that has been said, but many truths which could not be too much appreciated.

We recommend this work to heads of families, more particularly to those who reside in the country, who owing to their situation are often deprived of medical assistance in cases of the most urging necessity; it is likewise of the greatest utility to those who through their profession are obliged to visit the sick; as also to the ministers and pastors of congregations, who in their situation are likewise obliged to afford relief to suffering humanity; in short, it could not be too much recommended to captains, masters of vessels, seafaring men and other travellers, who frequent warm climates; as well as to those persons who have a desire to preserve their own health; so much the more, as (we repeat it again) that all therein contained is easy to put in practice, and the expense is small.

As the publication of this work is not an object of a pecuniary speculation, but the welfare of humanity generally, we have endeavored, as well as the expense has permitted, to fix the price of subscription as low as possible, in order that the poor as well as the rich may be able to obtain it, and experience its good effects principally in warm seasons, and in cases of contagious diseases.

CONDITIONS.
To render this work more portable, and comply with the wishes of many persons, it will form a large volume in 12mo. to be printed on good paper and good type, and delivered neatly bound and lettered to subscribers at 150 cents, to non-subscribers, the price will be enhanced to two dollars, and the profit arising from it will be for the benefit of the poor.
As soon as the subscription will be sufficient to defray the expense of printing, the work will be put to press and distributed as soon as circumstances will permit.
To prevent counterfeiting this work, the copy right has been secured according to law; and moreover each copy shall be signed by the person who has the sole direction of superintending the publication of it.

There is in old vulgar apothegms, or in what are called in the half-jocular slang of the coarse ones of the world, "tough old sayings," something which experience shows to be so conformable to plain common sense, (that best mental gift of God to man) that I have always some one or other of them ready at my tongue's end, to utter upon every emergency of deep impression or lively interest. That pious adage "man proposes, but God disposes," has often soothed me under unexpected disappointments, by suggesting to me the prudence of referring them to the will of that Being, who often nips the bud of enjoyment as it is expanding into flower, or blights the flower itself just as it is knitting into fruit, out of mere secret mercy to the sufferer. Of the benefit of this, at least in moderate mode of soothing the stings of misfortune, and beguiling the wounded soul of its pain, over-use at last deprives us; as narcotics lose their effect by being frequently administered. And I am compelled by an occurrence which has recently fallen under my observation to think that the only cure for the miseries of disappointment is not to hope, but to propose to ourselves any thing beyond what we are secure of, but to leave all to the disposal of heaven.

It has been often observed, that the cause of it has been explained or understood, that persons of warm or lively imaginations are frequently involved in sorrow and mortification, while those who are so blessed with a comfortable crassitude of skull as never to pursue any thing beyond the demands of instant necessity, or impulse of animal appetite, seldom experience either. The truth is, that the former are too sanguine in their expectations—they are generally, what a great philosopher, of whom the world, to its irreparable loss, was deprived some twenty years ago, was wont to call "mighty hopes." To them a promise seems the same as a performance—a brilliant prospect as an indefeasible possession; fortune has only to throw out a few luring characters of flattery, and she loses her characteristic versatility in their eyes—and he who calls her "fickle," is no better, in their judgment, than a slanderer. All the illusory pageantry with which she dazzles their eyes, we for the time as rapturously enjoyed as a dream of goldfishing, and all the snares she spreads to waylay our peace are pursued and clutched at by them with no less fond eagerness and sanguine expectation, than those with which children run headlong with their eyes fixed on the horizon, in hopes of catching the rainbow. A butterfly starting into sight, however, relieves the child from the effects of its disappointment—but wretchedness, mortification, and often despair follow the disappointment of the others.

When herit be a fate more peculiar to me than others, or that I only share it in common with all other men of quick sensibility, and rapid, warm imagination, I cannot tell; but so it is, that I rarely hope without afterwards undergoing all the goadings of disappointment. Even where, after all my well-earned experience, I have been able, on the most reasonable grounds, to assure myself that I was secured by every circumstance which could render permanent possession the same as certain—when I have had the cup not only at my lips, but gripped fast, as I thought, within my teeth, I have had it dashed from me. What the agony of such an unexpected privation of hope is, none but a man of a delicate, sensible and generous heart, who, when he suffers for himself, feels his pain mingled with regret for the unworthiness of those who occasion his disappointment, and who rejoice in his mortification can possibly imagine. I remember to have been once greatly affected by an incident that occurred when I was in England in the year 1791, the recital of which may serve to show the dire effects of disappointment upon the feelings and fate of a soul filled with sensibility and honor, and to caution men of feeling against being instrumental to the disappointment of others.

A Mr. Sutherland, who was judge of the admiralty court at Minorca, was, in a most tyrannical, cruel and arbitrary manner, dismissed by General Murray, the governor of that island, who, soon after, like a patriot, surrendered it to the enemy. For this wrong Mr. Sutherland received pecuniary satisfaction; but it was not money that could restore tranquillity to a mind exasperated to the highest state of agony by the consciousness of insult and injury, sharpened by the most exquisitely delicate sense of honor.

His unmerited dismissal, of which his sovereign never gave any public mark of disapprobation, inflicted a deep wound, which was never healed; he considered himself as sacrificed to misapprehension. At length his pecuniary resources failed, and the afflictive humilation of poverty was added to the anguish of a wounded spirit. After repeated appeals, which were either neglected or not received, finding it no longer in his power to struggle with the evils which beset him—unable to dig, and ashamed to beg, he resolved deliberately to put an end to his existence, in the presence of the sovereign who had been by designing men so strongly prejudiced against him. Accordingly he watched for an opportunity, and as the king in his carriage was descending Constitution Hill, in the Green Park, in the month of August of that year, (1791) the unhappy man, falling on one knee, lodged the contents of a pistol in his own heart.

CURIO.

A letter from Havana, of August 5, received at Boston, mentions that the Pique frigate sailed on the 3d inst. for Jamaica, with the money from the Tay, six per cent having been deducted for duties. The Semiramis, Sir James L. Yeo, sailed on the 4th of August for England, in consequence of Sir James being very sick. No salutes took place. [N. Y. Mer. Adv. Aug. 28.]

We have been favored with a Halifax paper of the 14th inst. On the 13th, the earl of Dalhousie, governor of Nova Scotia and its dependencies, issued his proclamation, publishing the order in council by which Halifax and St. Johns are designated as free ports, and declaring the port of Halifax to be now open, and considered as open from the 16th of July last. [Ibid.]

Correction.—We have published from the Charleston Times, an account of Col. McDonald and a number of English officers his companions, having accidentally fallen into the hands of the Spanish Royalists and been put to death. We are happy now to state, from the Aurora, that "Col. McDonald is at this moment in the United States, and his companions were in July at St. Fernando de Apure." [New-York Columbian.]

Disease among Cattle.—It appears by a New-Orleans paper that many cattle had died in that vicinity by a disease now known to be the hollow horn, but which disease being unknown to the inhabitants, was presumed to be the parbuncle. A gentleman had prescribed boring the horn and injecting vinegar and salt, by which many diseased cattle had been saved. [Ibid.]

Pippissaway.—A friend, who travelled some distance to get information on the subject, has left with us a small bunch of the Pippissaway, celebrated for the cure of cancers. It is an evergreen, found plentifully in all parts of the country; but not what is generally called winter-green. [Ibid.]

Hoax.—The Mermaids reported to have been lately seen in North Carolina, proved to be mere maids. [Ibid.]

Mr. Cooper, the celebrated American tragedian, from the last accounts was playing with great success in Ireland.

The Newark Messenger fondly anticipates that protecting associations, after the example of the one at New-Brunswick, "will speedily be formed throughout the state of New-Jersey, and the barbarous and disgusting traffic in human flesh so prevalent, be utterly abolished."

There are two Peace Societies in Massachusetts, one in Maine, one in Rhode-Island, one in the city of New-York, one in Cayuga county and one in Cheango county. (N. Y.) and two in Ohio. One is proposed in Pennsylvania, and one in North-Carolina. [Catskill Recorder.]

The Methodists have erected a seminary at Baltimore, for the instruction of youth, especially for young men who may be called to preach the gospel. [Ibid.]

The town of Cincinnati (Ohio) contains nearly eleven thousand inhabitants.

Estwick Evans, Esq. the celebrated Pedestrian, intends publishing, in a duodecimo volume, his late "Pedestrian Tour," of 4000 miles, through the western states and territories, during the winter and spring of 1818, interspersed with brief reflections upon a great variety of topics—religious, political, sentimental, &c. &c. The work will contain a likeness of the author in his hunting dress. [Providence American.]

The delegates to form a constitution of civil government for Connecticut, were to have met at Hartford on the 25th ult.

Discoveries in Africa.—The Bey of Tripoli has assured the British government, through the consul, that he will afford every facility to any parties sent by that government into the interior of Africa—that he has numerous merchants in the cities of the interior, and will guarantee the safety of all travellers who will conform to his directions. [New-Brunswick Times.]

EMIGRATION.

Something novel.—A few days since, a boat (carrying 11 tons) from Connecticut river, arrived at this city with a family, household goods, farming utensils, &c. on board; bound for Sandusky. At the water-landing place a large six-horsed wagon was backed into the river so far that the boat floated over it, when, being made fast, the wagon drove out, loaded with the boat with her cargo in, and set off for Sandusky, where the boat was again put into her proper element, and proceeded up the Mohawk towards her place of destination. In the whole route there will be 28 miles of portage. The family appeared in easy circumstances, neat and industrious. There was a neat and comfortable cabin in the forepart of the boat for the accommodation of the family. Success to the enterprise. [Albany Register.]

CREEK INDIANS.

[We have had the peculiarly good fortune to publish within the last month, some exceedingly interesting and truly authentic narratives of travels in Florida and South America. We congratulate our readers that we are again enabled, by the obliging kindness of a justly appreciated friend, to adorn our columns with a similar production. The extracts from the journal written in the Creek nation of Indians, convey information at once important and agreeable. Though we every day hear of our Southern and Western savages, we have never had a sufficiently ample and minute delineation of their habits, their traditions, their laws and their sentiments; and we receive, with pleasure, every additional effort to enlighten our ignorance upon the subject. Recent events have rendered the Creek and Seminole Indians, in particular, objects of great curiosity and interest; and though we could wish to see observations and facts thus easily, gracefully, and accurately exhibited, embodied in a form more durable than that of a newspaper column, we shall always as well as our own editorial pride, by giving them an early publication in this fugitive form.]—Ed. Franklin Gazette.

EXTRACT FROM A JOURNAL WRITTEN IN THE CREEK NATION OF INDIANS.

"The government of the Creeks is in form Republican, each town or village elect a chief or king, whose authority is never disputed, so long as he remains in office, and who represents his town in the great council at which the business of the nation is transacted, and where a speaker or head man of the whole is elected. The military authority is distinct and subordinate to the civil. McIntosh, the celebrated warrior, reports to and receives orders from the civil head of the government. But although their chiefs as such are elected, they are invested with more power than any legitimate sovereign in Europe, and the submission the people pay to their superiors is so remarkable, that they freely submit to the most arbitrary acts of the chiefs.

The chiefs of towns execute the laws in the most summary manner. Murder is punished among them by putting the murderer to death, if he can be found; if he abscond, they put to death his nearest male relation, who exonerates the original aggressor, who may then safely return. If a man kill a woman, he himself is not executed for the crime; but they put to death his sister or other near female relation. In many instances, their laws make relations responsible for each other; this has created among them a great attention to family; there is little social intercourse, except among those united by the ties of blood.

The knowledge they have of the remotest savages and branches, not only of their own family, but of those of the whole tribe is surprising. No hereditary office could be more correct and minute than the heads of some of their old men. I was once asked by an Indian who spoke a little English, "You know me?" I answered no. "No!" he exclaimed, "why my father killed six men in one battle," and was astonished that any person should not know a man who was thus distinguished by his ancestor. In one of the villages I passed, there had been a few days before, a fracas, at which a man was killed. The murderer was immediately secured, and the chief ordered him to dig a grave for the man he had killed and put him into it. After he had done this, he was told to put a cow hide over the man; while doing this, the chief knocked him in the head, and buried them both together, acting himself as judge, jury, executioner, and sexton.

Nothing marks so much the barbarous, uncivilized state of these savages, as the manner in which their women are treated. Polygamy is allowed among them, they are permitted to have as many wives as they are able to support. The consent of the woman to marriage is never asked, she must be bought from her father, to whom application is made, which, if accompanied with presents, is rarely refused, and the marriage takes place without the parties having previously exchanged a word with each other. An assemblage of relations to drink or to dance, is all the ceremonial used on the occasion. From this contract either party may be divorced, by notifying three months before-hand, that when the corn is ripened it is their intention to part. The women are employed in the most servile, menial drudgery, working in the field, cooking, pounding or grinding corn, and drying nature their principal occupations. A widow is compelled to remain single for four years after the death of her husband.

Attachment to ardent spirits is a general vice among these people. Tecumseh endeavored in vain to eradicate this inveterate passion.

Tecumseh was the most extraordinary Indian that has ever appeared in their history. He was by birth a Shawnee, and would have been a great man in any age or nation. Independent of the most consummate courage and skill as a warrior, and all the characteristic acuteness of his race, he was endowed by nature with the attributes of mind necessary for great political combinations. His acute understanding very early in life informed him, that his countrymen had lost their importance, that they were gradually yielding to the whites, who were acquiring an imposing influence over them. Instigated by these considerations, and, perhaps, by his natural ferocity and attachment to war, he became a decided enemy to the whites, and imbibed an invincible determination (he surrendered it but with his life) to regain for his country the proud independence he supposed she had lost. For a number of years he was foremost in every act of hostility committed against those he conceived were the opposers of his countrymen; and was equally remarkable for intrepidity, as skill, in many combats that took place under his banner. Aware, at length, of the extent, number and power of the United States, he became fully convinced of the futility of any single nation of red men attempting to cope with them. He formed, therefore, the grand scheme of uniting all the tribes east of the Mississippi into hostility against the United States. This was a field worthy his great and enterprising genius. He commenced in the year 1809, and in the execution of his project he displayed unequalled adroitness, eloquence and courage. He insinuated himself into every tribe from Michilimackinac to Georgia, and was invariably successful in his attempts to bring them over to his views. He played upon all their feelings, but principally upon their superstition, and sometimes assumed the character of a prophet, and carried with him a red stick, to which he attached certain mystical properties, and the acceptance of which was considered as the joining of his party; from hence the name Red Sticks applied to all Indians hostile to the United States. Unfortunately for Tecumseh, but happily for the United States was it, that before his plan had become matured, before his arrangements for general hostility were perfected, before, in fact, he had properly organized or brought into the field any of his forces, his brother made a premature attack upon the forces of the United States, under the command of Col. Boyd, in the summer of 1811, at Tippecanoe, in which he suffered a signal defeat.

This disaster marred the prospect of the gallant Tecumseh; his own soul was unshaken, but it damped the ardor of his associates; and although many continued firm in their warlike attitude and hostile intentions towards the whites, yet numbers shrunk from a contest that had commenced with defeat, and all the efforts of Tecumseh were unavailing to supply the links thus broken in his chain of operations. The war against England declared soon after this event by the United States, opened new views to the talents of Tecumseh. His merits were duly appreciated by the British government, and they made him a brigadier general in their service. At the head of his formidable warriors, he more than once turned the scale of victory against the Americans, and Detroit, River Raisin and Fort Meigs were witnesses of his conduct and valour. In 1813, when Gen. Harrison entered Canada, Tecumseh advised Col. Proctor to attack him; the British colonel preferred retreating; an attack was, however, sustained near the river Thames, in which Tecumseh displayed his usual ability, and laid down his life for the cause he had espoused.

LETTERS FROM ASIA.

Extract from a series of letters, written by an American gentleman while in Asia, to his friend in Boston. The writer unfortunately died by the plague, on his passage from Alexandria, in Egypt, to Constantinople, in a Grecian vessel.

(No. 11.)

The inhabitants of Smyrna being composed as I have before stated, of individuals from almost every part of the known world, present, from their various costumes, a variety, extremely pleasing to the stranger.

The Turks of the first class appear in long robes trimmed with furs, richly embroidered vests, large trousers drawn around the ankle, exposing part of their yellow morocco boots and slippers, with cucurules around their waists—but the turban which is in general use among them, varies in appearance with the different sects adhering to the Mahometan religion—frequently among the lower class, it is composed of green muslin, while Agas of immense fortunes, not being able to trace their descent from the Prophet, dare not appear with that sacred badge.

The Armenians and Grecians are permitted to wear robes, but they are plain—the former, use the turban, and the latter the cap, but both are obliged to divest their heads and faces of all hair except their moustaches, the Turks reserving the exclusive privilege of wearing the beard.

With very few exceptions, it is only in the streets, or while travelling in the country, that a Christian beholds the Turkish women, where they appear with their faces, so completely enveloped in white cotton, that 'tis difficult to ascertain one of sixteen from another of sixty—their faces are concealed by masks, the lower part reaching their mouths, composed of the folds of their dress, and the upper of black silk covering the residue! The custom among the Armenian women is similar, excepting that their inner robes are sometimes of a light blue. They will, however, when conscious of their beauty, frequently expose their faces to the passing Frank, but never when any probability exists of a Turk's participating in the sight.

The Grecian women are in general handsome, and some are beautiful, particularly those of the islands where their virtues are as predominant as the vices of the men. They dress similar to the European women resident in Smyrna, except in a profusion of tinsel and embroidery, which they display on particular occasions—but in dressing the head they exceed all others. Their beautiful dark hair is parted on the centre of the forehead; around their temples, they wind a piece of plain or embroidered crape, surmounted by a white cloth cap fitting close, having a black silk tassel in the middle. Their long hair being braided, is then passed around the crape, fastened by some ornament, and decorated by the women in their dresses, otherwise they would subject themselves to insult from the Turks, who consider as impious those wearing the sacred colour without having a just claim to the privilege.

There are no people so jealous of their women as the Turks. No man ever sees his wife until he becomes her husband; notwithstanding which, they say courtship is very pleasant! When they feel disposed to marry, enquiry is made of the nearest relative to ascertain the appearance of the lady; if it proves satisfactory, the parents consent to the bargain among themselves, and every exertion is used by those of the female, to render her sufficiently fleshy to be presented to the bridegroom; to effect which, she is confined to the house for months, and obliged to eat freely of such food as is considered the most nutritious.

The Turks often express their astonishment at Christians suffering their women to enjoy an equal share of liberty with themselves, without taking into view that, from that circumstance alone, society is indebted in a great degree to its refined state.

LATEST FROM ENGLAND.
Capt. MERRY, of the Agent sailing ship Rosalie, brings accounts from Liverpool several days later than by any former arrival. She sailed on the 25th ult. and to Capt. M. the editors of the Gazette are indebted for Liverpool papers of the 23d, and London of the 21st. From these papers we make the following summary.

The queen of England continued very ill, and the hopes of her recovery were faint.

The Courier of the 21st ult. says, "The wheat harvest has commenced 61 different lands in the neighborhood of Lewis, with flattering prospects to the growers."

The London papers exult in the increase of their revenue, and give the difference as a proof of the growing prosperity of the country. The markets in England continued to fluctuate. A letter to the editors, from Barnard Brothers, & Co. quotes American flour at 45 to 47s. with this remark, very heavy, and prices giving way, in consequence of the very fine weather." "Cottous unusually dull, to be attributed in a great measure to the great mass of Manchester spinnings having turned out for high wages."

Naval stores were in demand, and improving. Turpentine and Tar was 6s. Pitch 8s. 6d. Rice 40 to 42s. Wheat 11 to 12s. 6d. Tobacco was in much better demand.

Admiral Donald Campbell is to command the Leeward Islands in the place of Admiral Hervey.

From recent accounts, Bonaparte was to quit Longwood, and reside at Leech's farm, near the only landing place on the island of St. Helena; the access to which is up Ladder Hill. From this place, escape is considered altogether impracticable. The London Courier continues to admire the top full tenderness of the Morning Chronicle towards the great personage.

It is true, that one of our London papers observes, "It is said that the Duchess of Cambridge is pregnant." The refractory workmen at Manchester, Stockport, &c. had been riotous and troublesome. Their cry was, "More wages."

Two lovers at Paris produced a quarrel between some French and English officers; and three duels were fought, but no blood shed!

At a meeting of the trustees of the Alexandria Academy, held on the 21st of August, 1818—

The following Address to the citizens of the town, was adopted by the Board, and ordered to be published:—

The trustees of the Alexandria Academy, impressed in common with their fellow-citizens with the great and lasting importance of education, especially to a people whose fundamental principles of government are those of equal liberty, justice and order, on the support of which rest all our republican institutions, and from which flow public as well as private happiness, to place the Academy upon a more useful and respectable establishment, than it has heretofore been. They have with regret seen their well meant efforts fail, for want of that support which all who wish well to their beloved offspring ought to afford.

The trustees cannot continue their efforts to sustain the Academy, without other means than those they have heretofore possessed. They would therefore respectfully represent to their fellow-citizens of the town, the necessity there is of some effort on their part to enable the trustees to make such a change in the house and institution, as will render them generally useful.

The form of the house is inconvenient: it is such a state of decay as to be unfit for use, and is a discredit to the town. The institution requires certain necessary apparatus, and additional instructors. To effect these objects, funds are necessary, which cannot, as experience has clearly shown, be raised solely from the price of tuition.

It is confidently believed that the trustees in making this appeal to the parental feelings and liberality of the citizens of the town, will not appeal in vain, especially when they reflect, that by placing the Academy in their own town on a respectable footing, they will be relieved in a great measure from the necessity of sending their children to distant places for instruction, at a much greater expense than that at which they could be educated at home, and in too many instances at the very dear price of the loss of their moral principles.

The law incorporating the Academy declares that all persons, and their respective heirs, who shall contribute five pounds to the use of the Academy, shall have the right to vote at all elections of trustees.

Trusting that every citizen who values the blessing of education, the good of society, and the happiness and respectability of his children; will contribute liberally towards so desirable an object, the trustees have appointed some of their own body to wait upon their fellow-citizens with a subscription paper for that purpose.

By order,
WILLIAM H. WILMER, President.

The following gentlemen constitute the Board of Trustees for the present year:
Rev. Wm. H. Wilmer, Messrs. Hugh Smith, George Taylor, Oliver Norris, John Jamney, Rev. Elias Harrison, John Jamney, Hon. William Cranch, Anti-y. Grease, Messrs. Edm. L. Lee, Thos. Fowell, Thos. Swann, and I. P. Thompson.
August 24. 1w

The Principal and Professors of the Alexandria Academy will resume their labors THIS MORNING, at the usual hour. September 1

The wheat harvest has commenced in different lands in the neighborhood of Lewis, with flattering prospects to the growers.

The London papers exult in the increase of their revenue, and give the difference as a proof of the growing prosperity of the country. The markets in England continued to fluctuate. A letter to the editors, from Barnard Brothers, & Co. quotes American flour at 45 to 47s, with this remark, very heavy, and prices giving way, in consequence of the very fine weather. "Cottons unusually dull, to be attributed in a great measure to the great mass of Manchester spinners having turned out for high wages."

Naval stores were in demand, and improving. Turpentine and Tar was 6s. Pitch 8s. Rosin 3s. 6d. Rice 40 to 42s. Wheat 11 to 12s. 6d. Tobacco was in much better demand.

Admiral Donald Campbell is to command the Leeward Islands in the face of Admiral Hervey.

From recent accounts, Bonaparte was to quit Longwood, and reside at Leech's farm, near the only landing place on the island of St. Helena, the access to which is up Ladder Hill.

From this place, escape is considered altogether impracticable. The London Courier continues to admire the top full tenderness of the Morning Chronicle towards the great personage.

It is true, that one of our London papers observes, "It is said that the Duchess of Cambridge is pregnant."

The refractory workmen at Manchester, Stockport, &c. had been riotous and troublesome. Their cry was, "More wages."

Two lovers at Paris produced a quarrel between some French and English officers; and three duels were fought, but no blood shed!

At a meeting of the trustees of the Alexandria Academy, held on the 21st of August, 1818—

The following Address to the citizens of the town, was adopted by the Board, and ordered to be published—

The trustees of the Alexandria Academy, impressed in common with their fellow-citizens with the great and lasting importance of education, especially to a people whose fundamental principles of government are those of equal liberty, justice and order, on the support of which rest all our republican institutions, and from which flow public as well as private happiness, have at different times made various efforts to place the Academy upon a more useful and respectable establishment, than it has heretofore been. They have with regret seen their well meant efforts fail, for want of that support which all who wish well to their beloved offspring ought to afford.

The trustees cannot continue their efforts to sustain the Academy, without other means than those they have heretofore possessed. They would therefore respectfully represent to their fellow-citizens of the town, the necessity there is of some effort on their part to enable the trustees to make such a change in the house and institution, as will render them generally useful.

The form of the house is inconvenient; it is in such a state of decay as to be unfit for use, and is a discredit to the town. The institution requires certain necessary apparatus, and additional instructors. To effect these objects, funds are necessary, which cannot, as experience has clearly shown, be raised solely from the price of tuition.

It is confidently believed that the trustees in making this appeal to the parental feelings and liberality of the citizens of the town, will not appeal in vain, especially when they reflect, that by placing the Academy in their own town on a respectable footing, they will be relieved in a great measure from the necessity of sending their children to distant places for instruction, at a much greater expense than that at which they could be educated at home, and in too many instances at the very dear price of the loss of their moral principles.

The law incorporating the Academy declares that all persons, and their respective heirs, who shall contribute five pounds to the use of the Academy, shall have the right to vote at all elections of trustees.

Trusting that every citizen who values the blessing of education, the good of society, and the happiness and respectability of his children, will contribute liberally towards so desirable an object, the trustees have appointed some of their own body to wait upon their fellow-citizens with a subscription paper for that purpose.

By order,
WILLIAM H. WILMER, President.

The following gentlemen constitute the Board of Trustees for the present year:
Rev. Wm. H. Wilmer, Messrs Hugh Smith, George Taylor, John Janney, Rev. Elias Harrison, Andrew Cross, Hon. William Cranch, Messrs Edm. L. Lee, Thos. Swann, J. Hoffman, and L. P. Thompson.

August 24.

THIS DAY.

THE subscriber will sell the lease which has 18 years to run, of a small Farm he at present occupies, lying on the turnpike road leading from Alexandria to Washington city, about half way between the two places, and adjoining the lands of Mr. George Wise and Alexander Hunter. The improvements are a small Dwelling-house and Kitchen, good stables, a spring house and slaughter house, and all the useful tools therefor for killing, together with a house with a large kettle for rendering next's feet oil, which is a good business if properly attended to, and may be made much more so by adding the glue-making; which may be easily done—there is also a good garden and a number of beehives. I will likewise sell a likely young Horse, that has been well broke to the saddle or any kind of harness, a first-rate milk cow, the farming utensils, and household and kitchen furniture of every description, some of which are very good. The whole will be sold for cash, or on a short credit. The lease will be sold with or without the other articles, and immediate possession given. If not sold prior to the 1st day of September next, the above described articles will on that day at 3 P.M. be offered at public sale on the premises—and if the lease is not sold, the farm will then be rented for one or more years. It is thought unnecessary to give a further description of this valuable property, as it is presumed any person inclined to purchase or rent will view the property prior to that day, and it will be found very advantageous, as there are a number of articles on it which will be sold low and well suited to it. An early application is recommended and the whole will be sold a bargain.

Fifty Dollars Reward.
RAN away from the subscriber, on the 12th inst. Negro JEM, about 5 feet 5 inches high, 25 or 26 years of age, stout and well made, except that he is perhaps a little knockkneed; his complexion dark, has a large scar on the upper lip, occasioned, it is said, by his falling, when a child, on some edged tool; has a down look when spoken to, and is apt to be short and insolent in answering. The clothes he took with him are not recollected, except a red flannel shirt, a pair of Russia duck sailor's trousers, and a coarse wool hat with broad brim, nearly half worn. Having gone off without any provocation, it is probable his intention is to steer his course towards Baltimore or Pennsylvania, and pass for a free man. He has hauled the seine the two last seasons in Pompanoy, where he may have gone, or perhaps to Alexandria, where he is also a little acquainted. If taken 20 miles from home, or out of the county, I will give 20 dollars for securing him in any goal, or if taken 50 miles from home, or out of the state, I will give the above reward of fifty dollars.

Advertisement.

ABSCONDED from the subscriber's service, on Saturday night the 15th inst. a Negro woman TREACE or TREACH—she is five feet two or three inches high, about 30 years of age, of a very dark complexion, and when particularly examined is very apt to confound herself.—It is deemed unnecessary to mention her clothing, as she has all of them with her, and being extremely artful, she no doubt will change them and endeavor to pass for a free woman. She is well acquainted in Charles county, Prince George's, Alexandria and the City, as about 5 years ago she made her escape, and was 6 or 7 months about the Lower Ferry, leading to Alexandria, and from thence to Washington City, where she acquired an extensive acquaintance among the Negroes belonging to John Brent, esq., and the greater part of said Negroes belong now to William and Robert Brent, esqrs., and Mr. Dudley Diggs. Negro Treace has a scar on the back part of her neck, occasioned by a scorpion put for the benefit of her eyes, which are very weak at this time. I will give 10 dollars if taken in the county and secured in jail, or if out of the county and secured as aforesaid, so that I get her again, 25 dollars, and all reasonable charges paid if brought home. All persons are forewarned harboring or employing said Negro at their peril, as the law will be rigorously put in force against any offender.

BILL IN CHANCERY.

Robert Perry vs.

James B. Dunnington, Robert Dunnington, Francis Taylor and Elizabeth B. his wife, James B. Dunnington and Catherine his wife, William Simmons and Esther his wife, heirs of William Dunnington.

THE Complainant alleged in his bill that the Respondents have in possession the real estate of their deceased father Wm. Dunnington, whose personal estate was not sufficient for the payment of his debts. Wm. Dunnington's estate is indebted to the complainant in a large sum of money. The object of the bill is to procure a decree for the sale of the land, for the payment of the debts remaining unpaid by the personal estate. Some of the heirs of Wm. Dunnington are non-residents.—It is thereupon, at motion of the Complainant, ordered that a copy of this order be inserted in the Alexandria Gazette for the space of three months, to the intent that the absent defendants may have notice of this application, and of the subject and object of the bill, and may be warned to appear in this court in person or by a solicitor, to show cause, if any there be, wherefore a decree should not pass as prayed. THIS tract is situated in Westmoreland county, Virginia, adjacent to Mr. Garnett Hunter's Plantation, and contiguous to the waters of the Potomac. The neighborhood is good—water excellent, and very desirable situations for building. A considerable portion of the land is well timbered, besides a good deal of cedar, pine and other wood, sufficiently convenient to make it an object for those who may be disposed to send it to market—it is nearly equidistant from Baltimore, Washington and Norfolk.

Any one wishing to purchase may apply to

ROGER JONES,

Alexandria.

Also, a very valuable LOT, containing 140 acres, being a part of the late Mr. John Turberville's tract—within 6 miles of Georgetown, 3 from the Little Falls Bridge, and near to the turnpike leading from thence to Wiley's, in Fairfax county, Va. A great proportion of this land is exceedingly well timbered, and that part which is not, is a recently cleared as to be in an active state for cultivation, and already in a productive condition.—For terms, apply to PHILIP C. JONES, esq. in Leesburg, Va. or to R. JONES, March 30

Charles County Court.

March Term, 1818.

ON application to Charles county court by petition in writing of John Smith, of Charles county, for the benefit of the act of assembly for the relief of sundry insolvent debtors, passed at November session 1805, and the several supplements thereto, on the terms mentioned therein, a schedule of his property and a list of his creditors on oath, so far as he can ascertain them, being annexed to his petition, and the court being satisfied by competent testimony that the said John Smith has resided two years immediately preceding the time of his application, in the state of Maryland, and being also satisfied that the said John Smith is in actual confinement for debt, and the said John Smith having entered into bond with sufficient security for his personal appearance in Charles county court, to answer such allegations as his creditors may make against him.—It is therefore ordered and adjudged that the said John Smith be discharged from imprisonment; and that by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some one of the newspapers edited in the District of Columbia, once a week for two months successively, before the third Monday of August next, he give notice to his creditors to appear before the said Court, at Charlestown, in said county, on the said third Monday of August next, for the purpose of recommending a trustee for their benefit, and to show cause why the said John Smith should not have the benefit of the several insolvent laws as prayed. Given under my hand this 20th day of June 1818.

Dr. Thomson's System of Chemistry.

IN FOUR VOLUMES OCTAVO.

THE preceding edition of Dr. Thomson's Chemistry, had acquired so much reputation both in England and upon the continent of Europe, that a new edition, comprising the new facts with which the science had been enriched, and the new views of the subject which extended knowledge had suggested as indispensable, was eagerly looked for by the scientific world. A new edition has accordingly appeared, wherein the former edition of five volumes has been condensed into four.

All the new discoveries, and all the new theories of Chemical Phenomena, have been considered and embraced in the present improved edition; so that it is indispensable to the chemical student, as presenting the only condensed view of the changes and alterations in chemical doctrine, which the discoveries of the last ten years have suggested. No apology, therefore can be necessary for reprinting such a book in this country; for the press does not furnish a substitute for it. But, there is so much theoretical suggestion—so much abstruse calculation—so much fact of dubious authority—and so much dubious validity—that notes and illustrations are absolutely necessary, not merely to render the book more useful, but more intelligible.

Under these impressions, I thought fit to write notes in illustration (and sometimes in contradiction) of the work itself, rather than to make any abridgement of it. Those who wish to know the modern views of chemical science, must peruse it; and to very many who will be anxious to study it, elucidation will be necessary. I have endeavored to supply these, to the best of my ability; regardless whether my own opinions are in dissonance or coincidence with those of any author; leaving to the reader to decide between us.

The work will be published, with notes and illustrations, in four volumes 8vo.

James Kennedy & Son, RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from

LEE'S MEDICINE STORE, No. 45, Maiden Lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm destroying Lozenges.

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humors and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Tape or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitina or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tenia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fetid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

HAIN'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age. They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.
